

Hello all and thank you for your generous support of Britney's Movie, "Money for Nothing." We have had a ton of interest expressed in participating in the making of this film, from sponsors, to fund raisers, to people just wanting to lend a helping hand, and most importantly to those of you wanting to be actors and actresses. To all of you, we would like to offer a generous, 'Thank You'.

So, "What's next?", you are probably asking. Well, let me tell you.

We mentioned having an orientation, but with the hectic schedules that many of the kids have, parents in tow, we decided not to burden you with yet another evening event that you would need to attend. We have decided to set up a table at the Talent Show, on both nights, where you can come and meet Britney and Chris, say hello and pick up a welcome packet with instructions for how to prepare for an audition. Included will be a copy of the script so you can choose what role or roles you'd like to audition for. Plus, for the parents, you can see the Talent Release that you would need to sign should you or your child get picked to play a role, or even participate as an extra.

Plus, we'll be scouting talent at the Talent Show as well, watching any of you performing as part of the audition process. But don't worry, if you aren't in the talent show, you will still have equal consideration. We feel it's just a way to better get to know those auditioning.

So mark that on your calendar. If you aren't already planning to attend the talent show, it's to be held at the Chapel on Monday, March 16th and Thursday March 19th, at 7:00pm. Look for us, we'll have a table with a sign.

MORE NEWS:

Britney's Movie is being supported, as you know, by her Uncle Chris who is partner in a Production Company known as RollHD.tv. They have dedicated an entire webpage on the RollHD company website just for "Money for Nothing" as their featured project. There you can get updates to schedules and other information as well as copies of any letters sent home, emails sent from here, upcoming audition schedules and locations, maps to our shooting locations, call sheets, and more.

And the latest announcement is that we have opened a Café-Press store online where you can support the making of this film by purchasing souvenirs of the movie. This is a fund raising effort - only to cover costs incurred during filming such as food and drinks for cast and crew, and DVD copies for everyone. $2 of every purchase, (which is all we receive from Café Press) is put into the budget to cover these costs. Any overages, which we don't anticipate, will be donated to a charity, TBD.

The last announcement that we have to make is that for those of you that are chosen to play a leading role in the movie, we will send official announcements, along with a final script, shot list, the role you were chosen for, a special "Welcome to the team" invitation, and a special "I was chosen" Money for Nothing Journal where you can write about your experiences.

So, in order to do that, we will need everyone to reply to this email and fill out the following information so that we mail the selected actors and actresses their special packages to the correct addresses:
